

Australia is in flames

More than 20 people have been killed and millions of acres of land have been destroyed. The state of New South Wales is the worst-affected state, with thousands of homes destroyed or damaged. Within 4 minutes the fire was spreading so fast that it was not safe for no one. Australia houses and Emergency services in Australia's wildfire-ravaged east are switching their focus to combating expected flooding, with some areas forecast to have their heaviest rainfall in years. Heavy rain in Australia it must be a Mixed Blessings for the people in Australia's animals are sadly dying and the koala and kaygres.
